II. Andante

WELCOME AND CALL TO WORSHIP

INTROIT Here in This Place..... Marty Haugen, arr. Dake
Here in this place new light is streaming, now are the shadows vanished away; see in this space our fears and our dreaming brought here to You in the light of this day. Gather us in, the lost and forsaken, gather us in, the bound and the shamed, call to us now and we shall awaken, we shall arise at the sound of our name. Not in the dark of buildings confining, not in some heaven lightyears away, here in this place the new light is shining; now is the kingdom and now is the day. Gather us in, and hold us forever, gather us in, and make us Your own. Gather us in, all peoples together, Yours is the kingdom, our lives are Your throne. – Marty Haugen

HYMN 10 I Sing th'Almighty Power of God .....Ellacombe

INVOCATION

ANTHEM Prayer of St. Francis ..... Searle Wright
Lord, make me a channel of thy peace, that where there is hatred, I may bring love; that where there is wrong, I may bring the spirit of forgiveness; that where there is discord, I may bring harmony; where there is error, I may bring truth; where there is doubt, I may bring faith; where despair, where there are shadows, where there is sadness: I may bring hope, I may bring light, I may bring joy! Lord, grant that I may seek rather to comfort, than to be comforted; to understand, than to be understood; to love, than to be loved. For it is by giving that one receives; it is by self-forgetting one finds; it is by forgiving that one is forgiven; it is by dying that one awakens unto eternal life.
– "Prayer of St. Francis," paraphrased by Searle Wright

About Marble's New Pipe Organ

from the
October 18, 2015
Sunday Bulletin
when the Marble Pipe Organ was dedicated

SEBASTIAN M. GLÜCK, OPUS 20

Designed and voiced by Sebastian M. Glück, our new pipe organ encircles the listener in a manner both heard and felt. Its nearly 6,500 pipes are spread over seven divisions — including three that are under expression (meaning the pipes sit behind shutters which organists will control with their feet). A new division (the “Apse”) is now concealed behind the Chancel screens. This addition significantly enlarges the front organ and enhances the possibility of antiphonal effects, choral accompaniment in the Chancel, and more of a “surround-sound” effect in hymn accompaniment. Pipes from the Austin Organ formerly at Middle Collegiate Church were combined with many restored and re-voiced pipes from Marble's old organ, along with several ranks of newly-purchased pipes. The aggregate weight of the front and back organs, including their casework and the console, is estimated to be 23 tons.

An elegantly-crafted and technologically advanced four-manual console sits in the East choir gallery and commands its 101 ranks of pipes. The addition of a fourth “Solo” manual for the first time in Marble's history greatly adds to the instrument's versatility. The console includes 152 drawknobs, 35 rocking tablets, 102 thumb pistons, four expression shoes, and 31 foot-operated controls — all guaranteed to keep the organist extremely busy at all times!

Our builder Mr. Glück describes the sources of inspiration for his Marble masterpiece: “The strongest influences came from the large organs in France from 1770 to 1890, in England during the decades flanking 1900, and the best of the North American instruments from the second quarter of the last century. The choice and specific location of each voice in the Marble organ is prescribed by 350 years of great organ literature.”

There are several innovative touches among the organ's 101 ranks of pipes: A solo flute with two mouths per pipe; a Baroque woodwind stop made of brass and cherry wood; and the enormous aluminum resonators of the rumbling 32' Double Ophicleide. A magnificent Tuba Major in the style of the great English cathedrals provides for a noble crown. The organ's orchestral effects and daring musical gestures are designed to perform the great concert literature, lead dynamic public worship, and provide refined accompaniment to Marble's esteemed choirs. One could say the new Marble organ is truly a timeless classic.

Organs of Marble Collegiate Church – A Timeline

- 1854: Marble Collegiate Church opens with a mechanical organ in the rear gallery built by Henry Erben (III/40 stops), the most prestigious organ builder at that time.
- 1891: Marble gets electricity. The enlarged electro-pneumatic organ is built by J.H. & C.S. Odell (III/42 – Opus 296) and moved to the Chancel with the choir; unenclosed Chancel divisions are installed behind façade pipes flanking the Chancel.
- 1925: Marble commissions the rebuilding of Chancel divisions by the Skinner Organ Company (III/15 – Opus 525), along with a new console.
- 1937: The Austin Organ Company of Hartford, CT rebuilds and enlarges the entire instrument (Opus 2006), including new windchests and a new console.
- 1983: The organ is in need of urgent attention. The Austin Company (III/83 – Opus 2689) provides an entirely new organ in the neo-classic French style.
- 2011: The pipe organ is completely removed to facilitate repair of the roof and Sanctuary ceiling
- 2013: Marble's Board votes to commission Sebastian Glück to redesign, rebuild, and expand the organ, adding some pipework from the Austin Organ formerly at Middle Collegiate Church.
- 2015: Sebastian Glück Organ (IV/101 – Opus 20) is inaugurated.

Pipe Organ Talk & Demonstration — Join us after Worship in the Sanctuary, 12:25-1:00pm. Builder Sebastian Glück explains and Ken Dake demonstrates the sounds. This “aural tour” shows off the colors of its 6000+ pipes. Afterwards, look inside the newly built organ chambers.
